A MAN in Lawrence, Kansas, under examination for burglary, tried to prove an alibi by swearing that he had been out fishing. But he couldn't produce any fish, and was held for trial. This is a strange precedent. Are all fishermen who can't show any fish liars? Nay, verily. Just the other way.

CAPT. MULLAN is a gentleman and a scholar. He waives his commission as the State's fire per cent. claim against the government, and throws himself on the liberality of the State Legislature for compensation. There is danger, however, that, in this act of abandon, a gentleman and scholar is going to come down hard.

SOME scientific light on the nature of alcholic drinks and narcotics is to be shed on the minds of pupils in the schools of the District of Columbia and the Territories. This is a wise and a philosophic measure, provided it does not exercise the influence that Pope attributed to vice, which,

AS exchange, in noting the fact that the "loyalists" of Ireland are arming and drilling to resist Home Rule, calls attention to their peculiar ideas of loyalty. If the law should be passed, these loyalists would be rebels. But nothing has been said about measures of coercion. It is only that majority of the Irish people who want Home Rule that are supposed to be fit subjects for coercion and penal servitude.

NOW come the American merchants of Guatemala and do depose as follows: That the Postoffice Department is guilty of gross stupidity in sending mail to Central America via Jamaica on three English steamers, when it can be sent by way of New Orleans in one-third the time. These merchants express the belief that the postoffice department considers its duty done, when it places the mail aboard an English steamer at New York, no matter where that steamer is going. To the calm, unprejudiced observer, it looks as though the American merchants at Guatemala had seized up the situation with considerable accuracy.

A CALICO paper of recent date reports a railroad surveying party in Nevada county, Nevada, supposed to be in the employ of Gould's Southern Utah road. It is supposed that the party are looking for a practicable route by way of the borax works in Death valley, and by Resting Springs to a connection with the Atlantic and Pacific line at or near Dagget. It is just possible that the Calico paper may have been off its reckoning, and that these engineers are spying out a way for the recently discussed southern extension of the Carson and Colorado River Railroad, of Nevada. If this is not the case, and Gould is really making a movement towards a southwestern outlet for the Utah system, why then we will simply count another string to our bow. Already railroads converge in Los Angeles from all the cardinal points of the compass, but there are a few nor'east by nor' and east by nor'east courses which are not yet appropriated. A few more lines of rail coming in from these directions would do no harm.

Garland Still Elucidating the Pan-Electric.

AN INTERNATIONAL COPYRIGHT BILL.

California's Claim for the Proceeds of her Land Sales—The Senate Sticks for Its Steamer Subsidy.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Mr. Garland, Dr. Rodgers and his son, and Messrs. Van Benthuysen, Sypher and Casey Young, were in attendance upon the Telephone Investigating Committee today. The Attorney General was the first witness called. His attention was called to Brieson's testimony, and he said there were two or three mistakes in his account of his interviews at the Department of Justice. He (the Attorney General) had not expressed an opinion as to the proper mode of treating Van Benthuysen's application. When Brieson asked leave to withdraw Van Benthuysen's application, witness had told him he had no jurisdiction, that the paper had gone out of his office. Witness had not made any remark in reference to what would become of the application filed in the office afterwards; was positive about that; he had purposely remained silent on that point. Outrageous as it may have seemed, he would rather have acted in the matter himself than have made any remark on the proper way of making the application, and if he was positive about anything it was on that point.

Mr. Oates said that it had been alleged that witness had visited Young's rooms while the conference was in progress. The witness replied that he had never been in those rooms and did not know until he read seen it in the newspapers that Young had rooms in G street. He wished to repeat his former statement that he did not believe he had attended a Pan Electric meeting after the Presidential election in 1884, and he was positive that he had never attended one after the inauguration.

Mr. Oates inquired if any person had intimated to witness that application for a suit would be made, and that witness had intimated that it would be opportune if made during his absence. Witness positively declared that no such intimation was made.

Mr. Ranney read from Brieson's account of his interview with the Attorney General, and witness smiled at certain points in the reading.

"What did these four men want?" inquired Ramsey, referring to the visit of Brieson and others to the department.

"I have stated about fifteen times," replied the witness, "but I will state it again if you wish. What they really wanted I don't know. What they said they wanted was a suit. The suit was the name of the United States 4o test the Bell telephone patent.' I remarked, in reply, that I could not conduct the application, that I was a stockholder and attorney for a rival company. Then there was a question or two about procedure. I don't remember what steps were taken, determined to cut the matter off and I may have been a little abrupt, I am afraid."

The witness said he wished to say a word about that part of the testimony of the editor of the New York Sun where, in the answer to Millard's question, he had said that if he (Dana) had been in his (witnesses') place he would have protected his department against this suit; that he would have smashed it. While he could see little or no merit in the suit he might say a word in reply. It has been conceded on all sides that he had no proper authority to act in the matter, because of him being a stockholder in a rival company and because his relationship to the country hadn't changed. In his absence from July to October when he found that action had been taken in the same disability existed then, when he had declined to act in the first instance. If that same disability existed then, to put the question to Col. Dana and the commission how he could have smashed the suit if he did not have the ability to institute it.

Senator Harrison—"Your view was that you had no power to interfere?"

Witness—"Not at all. I had not been denuded of my disability."

Mr. Dibble discussed with the witness at some length his power in such matters and the legal phase of the case.

Then Millard asked if the witness had not understood that Col. Bentley's private application had not been withdrawn with a view to filing another in a different way.

The witness replied that he had no understanding on the subject.

CALIFORNIA'S CLAIM.

She Asks a Share of the Proceeds of Pacific Railroads.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A meeting of the California delegation was held today, to consider the bill providing for the payment to the State of California of five per cent. of the sales of public lands, for educational purposes. Captain Mullan, the State agent, who has the contract with the State for the payment of twenty per cent. to him of the amount of the money involved in the bill, which is estimated to be $800,000, was present.

Senator Stanford stated that he had introduced the bill at Captain Mullan's request, and was anxious that it should pass for the benefit of the State. When he introduced the bill he was ignorant of the personal interest Capt. Mullan had in it, and he wanted it passed if the State could be guaranteed the benefits of the appropriation for educational purposes. Capt. Mullan explained the circumstances under which he had made the contract with the State, and said that he was willing, in the event of the passage of the bill, to leave his claim for compensation to the liberality of the California Legislature.

Senator Stanford agreed to call up the bill and ask its passage, with an amendment providing that no part of the money appropriated should be diverted from the purposes for which it was intended.

Capt. Mullan said that the passage of the bill as amended would be entirely satisfactory to him.

The delegation agreed upon this method of procedure, and as soon as the bill can be reached in the Senate it will be pushed as agreed upon.

TO PROTECT AUTHORS.

An International Copyright Bill Reported to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Senator Chase to-day reported from the Senate Committee on Patents an original international copyright bill as a substitute for the bills on the subject before the committee. It amends section 4952 of the Revised Statutes by striking out the words "Citizen of the United States or resident therein." This is the section relating to the rigats of foreigners. The provision of the same section relating to the right to dramatize or translate is amended as follows:

"Authors or their assignees shall have the exclusive right to dramatize or translate any of their works, for which a copyright shall have been obtained under the laws of the United States."

Section 4949, governing the term of copyright, and section 4967, relating to damages for infringements, are also amended by striking out the words which limit their benefits to citizens of the United States.

Section 4971, declaring that nothing in the chapter relating to copyrights shall be construed to prohibit the publication of works of foreign authors, is repealed.

The following provision is added to section 4957:

"That if an author, designer or composer of books or other articles for which a copyright is applied for, be not a citizen of the United States, or a resident therein, the name of such copyrighted book or other article shall be recorded in the office of the Librarian of Congress, not later than on the day of its publication in the country of its origin, and in case of a book, musical composition or photograph, two copies of the best edition of the same printed in the United States shall be deposited with the Librarian of Congress within a term of three months after the date of recording such copyright, in default whereof such copyright shall be held void and of no effect, and after the recording of any copyright during the existence of such copyright the importation of any article copyrighted into the United States shall be and is hereby prohibited; and all officers of customs and postmasters are hereby required to seize and detain all copies of such copyrighted articles as shall be entered at the Custom Houses or transmitted in the mails of the United States; but, in the case of books in foreign languages, of which translations in English are copyrighted, the prohibition of importation shall apply only to a translation of the same, and the importation of books in the original language shall be permitted, unless the original shall also be copyrighted and an American edition thereof shall be issued within three months after the date of the entry of copyright. The Secretary of the Treasury and Postmaster-General are empowered and required to make and enforce such rules and regulations as shall prevent the importation into the United States of articles copyrighted under this act."

NATIONAL NOTES.

The Senate Still Sticks for Its Steamship Subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Plumb moved that the Senate insist on its amendments to the Postoffice Appropriation bill. The Senate agreed to the motion, and the chair appointed Messrs. Plumb, Mahone and Call as a Conference Committee.

The House Committee on Judiciary to-day instructed Chairman Tucker to report favorably on an amendment declaring polygamy unlawful. There was but one member of the committee who did not agree to the action of the committee, and he only desired further time to consider it.

APPROVED.

WASHINGTON, may 21.—The President has approved the bill providing for the study of the nature of alcoholic drinks and narcotics and their effects, in the public schools of the District of Columbia and Territories.

THE FISHERY FUSS.

Maine Men Very Mad—Letter from Senator Frye.

PORTLAND, Me., May 21.—Gov. Robie said to-day: "To my mind the seizure of the David J. Adams and the Ella M. Doughty was a blunder on the part of the Canadian Government, an outrage on the flag and a gross insult to the fishermen and owners. I am very confident that there is in Maine but one sentiment. We desire peace. We regret that the shadow of war should have been for a moment cast upon us, but at the same time we desire to have the rights of our fishermen respected, and we ask of the national Government the same protection to our property when in Canadian waters as is given to ours at home. We want statesmanship will be demanded to carry us through the present trouble without loss of dignity or sacrifice of right. We look to Washington for this statesmanship. The administration has yet to declare its policy. I have no criticism to make in advance of that declaration."

A LETTER FROM SENATOR FRYE.

PORTLAND, Me., May 21.—Last evening Messrs. Sargent, Lord and Skilton, part owners of the schooner Ella M. Doughty, received the following letter from Senator Frye:

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter and telegram received. I believe I have nearly exhausted all my resources in the fishery matter. I passed through the Senate a day or two since a authorizing the President to retaliate by closing our ports against Canada, and, as I attached to it the House Shipping bill, I have it still tenderly in a few days. Congress can do nothing more. The entire responsibility is now with the President and Secretary of State. They move very slowly. All diplomacy is timed and slow-going. That the administration wants a commission or a reciprocal treaty I have no doubt. From the expression of opinion on the part of the Senate may call a halt. I am entirely clear that your vessels should be protected under the treaty of 1818, and that under the laws of Great Britain and this country, as well as by the comity of nations, that which she wished to supply herself with. Of course she must yield obedience to the customs laws of Canada. I am very truly, WM. P. FRYE."

A NEW FISHERY LAW.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 21.—The bill amending the act respecting fishing by foreign vessels in Canadian waters was read for the third time and passed today, and will probably become a law within a week.

PRELLER'S MURDER.

Another Day of the Trial of Maxwell Alias Brooks.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—Interest in the Maxwell case continues undiminished. At the opening of the proceedings this forenoon the crowd of curious spectators exceeded that in attendance on any previous day. This was due, perhaps, to the fact that a witness was examined who positively identified the body found in the zinc trunk at the Southern Hotel as that of Preller. This witness proved to be J. A. Frazer, of Toronto, Canada, for many years a photographer, but now a portrait painter and sculptor. The cross-examination failed to confuse the witness, and as he stepped down from the stand it was evident that jurors and spectators entertained no doubt as to the identity of the body found in the trunk.

The Convicted Alderman Taken to Sing Sing.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Alderman Jaehn was removed this morning at an early hour from the Tombs and taken to Sing Sing to serve out his sentence of nine years and ten months. As early as 6 o'clock a crowd gathered about the Tombs' exits to see the prisoner off on his journey. Accompanied by a Deputy Sheriff, to whom he was handcuffed, Jaehn left the prison and entered a carriage, which was occupied by another Deputy Sheriff. The party were driven to the Grand Central Depot, where they took the 8 a. m. train for Sing Sing.

NEW YORK, May 21.—A dispatch from Sing Sing to-day states that Jaehn arrived safely at the State Prison, and was at once put to work in the laundry.

A Child Devoured by Hogs.

GREENSBORO, N. C., May 21.—Intelligence of the horrible fate of a six-year old girl has reached here from Thomasville. She was feeding a drove of hogs with bread, and in order to reach them better, she got in a corner of the fence. The hogs crowded around her, and one of them accidentally bit her hand. The smell of blood seemed to excite the animals, especially as the child had no more bread. They grabbed at her bleeding hand, and the child, in her terrified attempt to get away, stumbled and fell to the ground, whereupon they tore her to pieces, fighting with each other for the reeking fragments. The horrible occurrence was witnessed by a paralyzed old woman, who was unable to render any assistance.

Cleveland's Fiancee an Heiress.

OMAHA, May 21.—The announcement of the death of Col. Folsom created considerable surprise in Omaha where several of his relatives live. Col. Folsom owned an undivided half interest in the estate of his brother, Benjamin R. Folsom, valued at over $500,000, and consisting of Omaha real estate. This estate now goes to the heir, and as Miss Frankie Folsom, the intended bride of President Cleveland, was the favorite grandchild of Col. Folsom she will very likely receive the bulk of one-half the Folsom estate in this city.

Railway Strikers Indicted.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—The grand jury, which has been in session in Hillsboro for the past nine days, finished their labors yesterday. Their time has been almost wholly given up to the investigation of the charges of conspiracy against the late railroad strikers, fifty-nine of whom were indicted. Many of them escaped before warrants could be served on them, and only four have been arrested.

Death of Dio Lewis.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 21.—Dr. Dio Lewis, author and reformer, died at his house here, this morning, after an illness of two or three days from erysipelas.

PACIFIC COAST.

Second Day of the Irrigators' Convention.

THE APACHES STILL ON THE WARPATH.

Whalen, the San Francisco Parricide, Convicted—News from Porter Ashe—Coast Notes.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The second day's session of the Irrigation Convention was called to order by President Shorb, at 9 this morning, at the Grand Opera House. After prayer by the Chaplain, C. C. Bush of Shasta delivered an address.

Mr. Green, of the Committee on Resolutions, submitted a partial report of resolutions submitted to the committee, and a discussion followed. The discussion ended by all the resolutions being again referred to the committee.

John P. Irish, of the Committee on Resolutions, later reported in favor of the adoption of the resolutions presented yesterday, which ask that amendments be made to the State Constitution, which will establish the right of irrigation against the riparian doctrine. The committee also recommended that the resolutions of Judge North that the statute of this State "adopting the common law as the rule of decision in courts" in no sense adopts it as the law of the State on subjects legislated upon through the Legislature by the people, and that the resolution introduced by Abbot Kenney, of Los Angeles, holding that the State is of right entitled to and should distribute the waters of unnavigable streams, when the people's interest demand it, be now passed. The committee also recommended the adoption of the resolution which requests the Supreme Court to rehear the whole irrigation question. The committee's report was adopted and an adjournment taken until afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the afternoon session, on motion of George A. Nourse, of Fresno, the resolutions adopted as a whole during the morning session were placed before the convention for reconsideration.

Mr. Kelsey, of Los Angeles, presented a resolution to protect consumers, as well as riparianists and appropriators, and to prevent monopoly of water in any form. Referred.

On motion of Mr. Dibble the resolutions submitted by the Committee on Resolutions were taken up for consideration seriatim.

The resolutions and subdivisions were adopted with but little debate, excepting the following subdivision of the platform:

Seventh—An amendment to the State Constitution declaring that the common law of England is not and should not be the rule of property, or the rule of decisions in courts of the State in controversies concerning the right to appropriate, divert and use water, nor in actions by or against actual appropriators of water for beneficial purposes."

The sub-division was generally opposed and the sentiment expressed that it should be stricken out to show that the convention ignored the English common law.

Action was finally deferred until the evening session.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session sub division seven, which was under discussion when the convention adjourned this afternoon, was stricken from the platform.

A series of resolutions were presented by the Committee on Resolutions, in conformity with the irrigation acts before the last Legislature. Except as to some minor details, the committee recommended that the nominees for the Legislature be pledged to support these resolutions.

The committee's report was adopted, and the convention adjourned till to-morrow evening.

THE APACHES.

More Mexicans Murdered—A Panic in Arizona.

TOMBSTONE, A. T., May 21.—The Apaches killed two Mexicans on the Mescal ranch, near the Mexican line, yesterday. They also waylaid and killed two Mexicans and fatally wounded a boy between Mescal Springs and San Pedro. Leading citizens of Tombstone have sent a petition to the United States government setting forth the condition of affairs in this vicinity.

EL PASO, Tex., May 21.—John Martin, freight conductor on the Southern Pacific railroad, who arrived here to-day in charge of his train, states that much excitement prevails at Dragoon station, A. T. It is feared that hostile Indians are in the surrounding country. While the train was at the station depot, four saddle horses, bereft of riders, and one mule ran in from the adjacent mountains. The animals were wild with fear and had evidently been under fire. Search was at once begun, and the body of a dead white man was found within a mile of the station. He had evidently been shot mortally by assassins, and could not reach the station. No further particulars could be learned before the departure of the train, but it is believed that the men who rode the four horses have been killed from behind the rocks.

SAN FRANCISCO.

A Parricide Convicted—Porter Ashe's Confidence in His Stable.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The jury, in the case of Timothy Whalen charged with killing his father by striking him on the head with an ax, on the 15th of February last, returned a verdict this evening of murder in the second degree.

NEWS FROM PORTER ASHE.

The following dispatch has been received from R. P. Ashe:

"ST. LOUIS, May 20.—Arrived this morning. My proteges stood the trip splendidly, particularly Alta and Bicette. Look out for us."

A NEW OIL COMPANY.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The Central California Oil Company has incorporated, to develop and work petroleum lands in this State, and sell the product. Capital stock, $200,000, divided into 2000 shares, all of which have been subscribed. The directors are A. C. Paulsell, A. B. Thomson, H. C. Campton, T. C. Coogan and W. B. Harrison.

Riddled with Bullets.

PLACERVILLE, May 21.—A Deputy Sheriff returned this afternoon from Indian Diggings and reported the killing of W. T. Eckholm. The body was found in a ditch. Three bullet holes from a rifle were in it. Suspicion of the deed rests on a man named French, with whom Eckholm had a standing quarrel about water rights. He was arrested yesterday, but discharged today, the evidence against him not being sufficient to warrant his detention.

A Chance for the Unemployed

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Superintendent J. A. Fillmore, of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, announces that every man who applies for work on the extension of the roads south of Soledad and north of Redding, will be given employment.

The Louisville Races.

LOUISVILLE, May 21.—Weather warm, track slow and attendance very good.

First race, five-eighths of a mile—Donnybrook won by five lengths; Margery second; Jaubert third. Time, 1:05.

Second race, mile heats—Sovereign Pat won with ease in two straight heats Boobbalon second. No others ran. Time, 1:48½, 1:49.

Third race, Merchants' stakes, one and one-eighth miles—Modesty won easily by a length, Claypate second, Billy Gilmore third. Time, 1:59½. Kalooths and Col. Clark ran also.

Fourth race, Runnymede stakes, three-fourths of a mile—Dahne won by a head after a long driving finish; Duke of Bourbon, second; Jennie T., third. Time 1:15¾. Nellie B. also ran.

Murder and Suicide.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 21.—This afternoon Andrew J. Wiggin, aged 30 years, a bricklayer, and his wife, who is 25 years old and very pretty, were walking in Dwight street. Suddenly Wiggin drew a revolver and stepping back fired three shots at his wife, one shot taking effect in her hip, the second in her arm and the third in her hand. A crowd at once started in pursuit of Wiggin who ran down an alley. As the crowd gained upon him he appeared to become frightened and after looking backward two or three times placed the pistol to his temple, fired and fell dead. Mrs. Wiggin was taken to the City Hospital, where she now lies in a critical condition. Domestic troubles were the cause of the tragedy. Wiggin is well connected, being a son of the President of the New Hampshire Legislature.

THE DEATH PENALTY.

A Washington Territory Lynching —Several Legal Executions

PORTLAND, Or., May 21.—The names of the four men hanged by the Asotin county, Washington Territory, vigilantes are Todd Farmer, aged 28, Joe Grimes, aged 30, John O'Neil, aged 24, and a half-breed called Jack. These were the ringleaders of a gang that has been running off cattle and horses in that section for months past. After getting on the track of the men through a recent theft of stock, and pursuing them over a considerable territory, they were finally run to cover on Salmon river, Idaho, between White Bird and John Day's. After a short but fierce fight the gang were compelled to surrender. There were six all told. The four named above were taken charge of, and, after a brief trial, were marched to a little copse of trees, near the river, and hanged from limbs not more than six feet and thrown over the heads of each. The other ends were drawn over the limbs of trees. The doomed men then mounted horses.

When all was in readiness the captain of the pursuing party said, "Men, you know what's before you. You have been caught with stolen property in your possession, and it has been decided by the men you see around you that you must be hung. Two of your companions lying over there are spared for the present and will be handed over to the authorities. Have you anything to say before you are ushered into eternity?"

"No," said Farmer, who acted as spokesman, "we can't make us take water. If yer goin' ter hang us, give the boost. Yer can bet the gang'll get even on yer if yer do, though."

"Where's the rest of your confederates?"

"Find 'em if ye can."

At this rejoinder, the captain of the vigilantes gave a sign, the four horses sprang forward, and the next moment the four struggling bodies were dangling in mid-air. The party immediately started, taking the two prisoners named Nicholas Fox and Charles Otwell. The lives of these were spared on account of their extreme youth, both being under twenty. Twenty head of horses were recovered.

FOR KILLING FATHER AND SON.

CHEYENNE, May 21.—A special to the Leader from Sidney says: James Reynolds was hung here to-day for the murder of James and John Pickston, father and son, thirty miles north of Sidney, September 16, 1885. Reynolds was convicted of the crime December 31, 1885, since which time he has been shamming insanity. Drs. Mathewson and Carter, of the Lincoln Insane Asylum, pronounced him sane, and a jury, called for that purpose, agreed as to his sanity. In a letter to his mother, written last night, he acknowledged his crime, but denied that the Pinkstons and himself had a dispute over the settlement of money matters, and that in the fight he killed them both. Reynolds was very much collected when brought to the gallows. The drop fell at 3:26½ p. m. He was pronounced dead at 13½ minutes after the drop fell.

OTHER EXECUTIONS.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 21.—This after noon Louis Kilgrave, colored, was publicly hanged at Hendersonville for the murder, last fall, of Mattie Hanson.

PLUMMERVILLE, Ark., May 21.—Lee Barnes was hanged here to-day for killing Charles Holmes last November. The murder was committed for the purpose of robbery.

BUFFALO, May 21.—Peter Louis Otto, the wife-murderer, was hanged this morning.

LABOR TROUBLES.

A Tailors' Lockout—Electric Light Men on a Strike.

NEW YORK, May 21.—In the threatened lockout of the boss tailors, one hundred shops have closed up so far, with about 1500 men out. The closing of the shops is said to be a necessity. If the men do not return to work by Sunday morning it will be necessary to close 600 more shops, throwing out of work about 4000 men. The contractors cannot agree with the men on three points: the buttonhole question, the weekly system, and the recognition of the operators' union.

Three hundred and fifty men employed in the shops of the Edison Electric company in this city are on a strike. The company consented them an advance in wages and a reduction in hours from ten to nine. Now they demand that only union men be employed, and that no employe be required to attend more than one planer, instead of three, as heretofore. They threaten to close down and have the work done by contract.

MARTIN IRONS IN HIDING.

KANSAS CITY, May 21.—The Times's Sedalia (Mo.) special says: The accounts of Martin Irons, ex-Master Workman of Labor, have been found to be correct. There has been a report of misappropriation of some money sent here in aid of the strike. The Labor Union has demanded Martin Irons's resignation. He is now hiding from the wrath of ex-strikers, having left here, it is supposed, a day or two since.

The Transcontinental's Appeal.

NEW YORK, May 21.—President Elijah Smith, of the Oregon and Transcontinental Company, has issued a circular letter to the stockholders soliciting proxies in favor of the present management. In reply to the appeal of the opposition the letter says: "In reference to the movement whose design appears to be to hand over your company to the control of the Union and Northern Pacific railroads it is for you to determine whether such action is prudent, in view of the fact that should the Northern Pacific obtain control, it may lease your property to itself and settle the outstanding disputed account on its own terms. The letter was authorized by the executive committee of the Board of Directors.

"Burn this Letter."

A Washington special says: The First Assistant Postmaster-General has received the follo ving interesting letter from a citizen of New Mexico, who signs himself "Justice of the Peace." The word "confidential" is written at the head of the letter, and out of considerations of humanity his name and residence will be kept a profound secret:

"Respected Sir: Old Dick Hanson is circulatin' a paper around town asking to be made postmaster at this place, and I have signed it, but I don't want it to Count, and when it Comes in place scrach my name off, as he is no more fit for postmaster than I am for ministher of the holy gospel. Dick is an awful ruff cuss—drinks, swears, fights, and would belt hell out of me if he knew of this letter. Pleas burn this and don't give me way, and has no education, nor many manners, would whip every republican in town if he had that office, and I believe would steel U. S. poor in four years. He is a ret h of the first water, and everyone in this town is fraid of him, and would put on more airs than a french stud horse and drive every republican out of this town. I write strong because we have a very refined community, and you don't want to give him that office unless you want to dysorganiz this community, for he is a holy terrur, and you may depend on it We look to the Hon postmaster general to save us from a shedeszerous doom. Yours respec'y,

Justice of the Peace.

P. S.—Others will also this, but are fraid.

Old Dick Hanson will not get the office.

German Sympathy for Minister Pendleton—Great Eruption of Mount Etna—Other Foreign Notes.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

ATHENS, May 21.—Dispatches received from the frontier, whence they were sent at noon to-day, report continued firing between the Turkish and Greek outposts. The Turks were attempting to occupy Analipsis. They have been repulsed at Phiotherdra, after severe fighting. The Greeks remain firm in their position. Their infantry is now pursuing the repulsed and retreating Turks near St. Atnasina. The Greek artillery has destroyed the Turkish earthworks opposite Analipsis The Turks entrenched at Saliosibila are now retreating towards Hassanmeslina. The Turks have reoccupied Baliraklovi.

THE GREEK MINISTRY.

ATHENS, May 21.—Tricoupis has formed a new ministry. He assumes provisionally the office of Minister of War and Minister of Finance. Tricoupis received an ovation last evening from the populace of Athens. In an interview he declared that the policy of the new government would be one of peace. They would demobilize the army, and endeavor to avert the financial crisis threatening Greece.

THE STOCK MARKETS AFFECTED.

LONDON, May 21.—The news of the firing on the Greek frontier to-day unfavorably affected the European bourses and the tone at the close was flat.

FRANCE.

The Compte de Paris—De Lesseps and the Panama Canal.

PARIS, May 21.—It is here considered certain that the government will prohibit the Compte de Paris, who is now at Lisbon to attend the wedding of his daughter to the Crown Prince of Portugal, from re-entering France.

M. De Lesseps, being interviewed on the subject of M. Rousseau's adverse report on the Panama canal, said that M. Rousseau naturally took a pessimistic view of it, but," added M. De Lesseps, "the worst that even Rousseau can say is that great difficulties have yet to be overcome in cutting, and that the estimate was considered for below what the work will actually cost." Commenting on this, DeLesseps said: The contractors will have suffered if what Mr. Rousseau says be true, and not the company. I adhere to my belief that the canal will be completed in 1889; and I am ready to further the government in any information and documents in my possession which confirm me in my impression."

M. De Lesseps pronounces the whole Rousseau incident a thing of but little importance. The canal company's engineers held a consultation to-day for the purpose of preparing a statement in rebuttal of Rousseau's report. De Lesseps says that if the government confirms him permission to issue the lottery bonds for the purpose of raising sufficient money to complete the canal, he will get them by other means, and elsewhere than in France.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Minister Pendleton's Bereavement —Eruption of Mount Etna.

BERLIN, May 21.—United States Minister Pendleton and his daughter Mary witnessed the parade of the Imperial Guard to-day, and on returning to the American legation they were handed a telegram announcing the death of Mrs. Pendleton. Both were terribly shocked. As soon as the news had spread many ladies of the American colony hastened to sympathize with the daughter, and Mr. Pendleton received expressions of the deepest sympathy from all sides. The evening newspapers contain expressions of regret and condolence. It is not known yet whether Mr. Pendleton will return to America. It is expected that his son and only daughter who are now in New York will come to Berlin immediately after the funeral of Mrs. Pendleton.

THE ARMS ACT.

LONDON, May 21.—Mr. Gladstone, in the House of Commons this afternoon, stated that he would, on Monday next, ask the House for a vote of supply on account and then to take up the Arms Act for daily debate until the bill was passed, in order that it might be brought into operation before the old act expired.

ERUPTION OF MOUNT ETNA.

CATANIA (Sicily), May 21.—The eruption of Mount Ætna hourly increases. Molten lava was only two hours distant from the village of Nicolosi, eight miles from here, on the slope of the volcano, when the inhabitants fled. Many dwellings were destroyed and lives lost.

Earthquake shocks are constantly occurring.

The Prophet of Cyclones.

Rev. Ira R. Hicks, pastor of the Olive Branch Congregational Church, St. Louis, comes to the front now as having in a series of sermons, or rather lectures, told his congregation all about the recent great storms. Early in last January he had printed a chart setting forth in a simple manner that the disasters were coming. The chart is based upon the theory of planetary equinoxes, and the dates of these equinoxes are indicated by figures, the periods of greatest disturbance by large figures, the periods of weakest by small. On the chart the equinoxes of all the planets are placed in regular order, so that at a glance one cannot only see when the equinox occurs, but when two occur in conjunction. The large figure 12 for the month of May appeared on the chart, and some time ago Mr. Hicks called at the signal office, and, putting his finger on that day, told Sergeant Weber to mark that date, and watch the effect of the equinox, which, he said, would cover a period of two days before and three after the equinox, the rule governing the volcanian disturbances. That Mr. Hicks's warning was justified, the fearful record extending from the 10th to the 15th shows. Last Wednesday, after the Kansas City cyclone, Mr. Hicks wrote another prediction, saying that there would be a twenty-four-hour cycle for three or four days, in which storms repeat themselves. If the accounts of the terrific storms which followed have not verified this prophecy, Mr. Hicks says, there is no value then in any kind of records.

In regard to the rest of the month, the storm chart presents the minor cycle of Vulcan as occuring on the 24th, and the major cycle of Mercury on the 21st. These two equinoxes happening together, Mr. Hicks says that about those dates there will be another series of disturbances of marked energy. For the verification of this prophecy the time is now up.

The three sermons of Mr. Hicks elaborating the theory explained in the chart, were delivered at his church during a period which he had announced some weeks before would be very disturbed. At the conclusion of the sermons on April 19, resolutions were unanimously adopted by the congregation which had each Sunday packed the church, thanking the lecturer for his discourses, and acknowledging the remarkable confirmation of his theory in the elemental disturbances, which the resolutions declared had been "foretold by him several weeks ago." The resolutions closed with a request to all to secure these charts and watch the predictions. They were then signed by the Board of Trustees and formally presented to Mr. Hicks.

"Mudsills" Again.

The following, from the Atlanta Constitution, carries us away back to the prevailing insolent sentiment of the Southern press "befo' the wah:"

"If the malcontents of the North intend holding any more meetings to disapprove of the honors paid Jefferson Davis, we urge them to wait until a number of their compatriots who are detained in Atlanta for the present can join them.

"These gentlemen are now resting in what, for the lack of a better name, is called the city "jug." They were caught Saturday rifling the pockets of the howling multitude of such trifles as were handy. This is a sort of informal sociability not in vogue here, and the enterprising visitors are now in durance vile, awaiting ransom.

"The news comes to us, reliably we may say, from their enforced retreat, that they look upon the fellow-malcontents of the north in hearty disapproval of the entire proceedings. Indeed they are disposed to consider it an outrage of the most flagrant sort. Their feelings will probably deepen as they go through the perfunctory work of picking rocks on our public streets—chained, as it were, to the tail of Chief Connolly's triumphant chariot. So that by the time they reach home they will be ripe for howling. By all means they should be waited for. Or, if the emergency presses, they should be sent for. We understand that about $194 per capita will ransom them, and we guarantee they will be ready to not only "hang Jeff Davis on a sour-apple tree" (at a distance,) but to decorate (from afar,) the entire orchard with Atlanta policemen. One of these gently leaped from the two-story window of a justice-court room on yesterday's docket, and due north as he struck the pavement, and hit the grit for home. He will probably cross the Ohio river on Thursday morning, and his advice from this section may be accepted as reliable."

The greatest mistake the United States ever made was when it failed to hang that same Jeff Davis from a sour apple tree at short range.

YESTERDAY Senator Buck, of Vacaville, shipped the first apricots of the season. They were the Pringle, and shipments will be regularly kept up, some going to Chicago this week. Who said anybody could beat California in earliness of fruits?—[San Francisco Alta, May 20th.

We don't exactly like to go back on our own State, but a frozen regard for truth compels us to say that there were ripe apricots in Los Angeles about ten days ago, which had been shipped in from Salt River valley, Arizona. The TIMES commented on this fruit-at the time, and stated that it was about a fortnight earlier than the up-country apricots, and a month earlier than those grown in Los Angeles county. In point of time, it may as will be conceded that Arizona takes the bakery. Preparations are making to extend the citrus belt out there at once. As soon as Prophet Potts can arrange the weather— But we are not going to give this thing away. The jealous up-country counties will hear of it soon enough, to their sorrow.

THE SHOOTING.

Lawyer Wicks is Promptly Exonerated

FROM A CHARGE OF ASSAULT TO MURDER.

Testimony of Miss Frost and of the Defendant—The Magistrate Considers it a Lesser Offense.

The examination of Moye Wicks for shooting at J. H. Levering was continued by Justice Austin, sitting in his own courtroom, yesterday afternoon.

The prosecution stated that it did not desire to introduce testimony in rebuttal as to the character of preceding witness, Levering. Miss Hattie Frost, who was unable to attend the examination Thursday, was present.

MISS FROST.

The first witness testified as follows: "I was at the Supervisors' room yesterday. Saw the trouble between Mr. Wicks and Mr. Levering. I was sitting on the south side of the table at the right of Mr. Wicks. Did not pay any attention to what was said. I was copying. I recollect Mr. Levering coming in and sitting down and asking Mr. Wicks for some papers. Mr. Wicks said he hadn't them. Mr. Levering said something more, and then Mr. Wicks requested Mr. Levering to leave the room. Mr. Levering said he wouldn't and then Mr. Wicks drew his revolver and fired. Mr. Wicks was part way up when he shot and had a revolver in his right hand. At the time of the firing Mr. Levering was sitting in his chair. It seemed as though Mr. Wicks put his hand in his pocket to draw his revolver. He didn't say anything as he drew it. The last words I heard him use were 'I don't wish to have anything more to say to you.' Between the time when Mr. Wicks said this and the shooting I don't know what I was doing. I saw Mr. Levering lean his head back and I thought he was shot. I jumped up and ran out of the room. The last I saw of Mr. Levering he was leaning his head back. I heard another shot when I was in the door, going into the County Clerk's office. I was a good deal excited after the shot. Mr. Neely passed me as I was going up. He was going in the direction of Mr. Levering and might have met him at the edge of the platform by the time I reached the door. Mr. Wicks apologized to me for the shooting that afternoon, and again this morning. There has been no other conversation between us on this subject."

CROSS-EXAMINED.

"Mr. Levering was sitting nearer the clerk's office than Mr. Wicks. Mr. Levering was almost directly behind my book. When I was not leaning to one side I could just see his arm. The book was one of those large record books."

MR. WICKS ON THE STAND.

Moye Wicks testified: "I am the defendant in this case. Have prosecuting witness, Mr. Levering; can't state exactly how long I have known him; perhaps two years. Some time yesterday afternoon, I think after 9 o'clock, I went into the Clerk's office and obtained permission of one of the deputies to take the transcript of evidence in the case of the People vs. Levering, in which the prosecuting witness in this case is charged with testifying falsely against me in the case in which Levering is charged with embezzlement. I have been and am still associate counsel for the prosecution in these cases. Milton Thomas, complaining witness in the perjury case, went with me, and we were looking over the testimony together. At the moment Mr. Levering entered the room I was pointing out two errors on page 58 of the transcript. At that moment Mr. Levering entered and took a seat at the table opposite me. He was either exactly in front of me or a little to the right of me, towards the Clerk's office. Mr. Levering said nothing when he took his seat. I gave my memorandum to Mr. Thomas and he withdrew. A moment passed and I continued writing in a memorandum. Mr. Levering said: 'Mr. Wicks, when are you going to bring those papers back?' I replied, 'Now Levering, I want you to quit talking to me about those papers.' You know I haven't them. And you quit speaking to me on the street or anywhere.' His reply was that he would speak to me whenever he pleased. I told him to get out of the room. He said he would stay as long as he pleased. I sprang up, and think the pistol was discharged by me before I was entirely on my feet. I state positively that, at the moment I fired, I had no intention of shooting him. If I had I could hardly have avoided hitting him. I directed my pistol so that the ball went a long distance to the left of his person. At no period of the transaction did I present my pistol directly at him. The moment I fired I looked at Levering. I have distinctly in my mind a photograph of his position. He was sitting in his chair still, his head thrown back as if from the natural recoil. A moment later he raised to his feet and started towards the Clerk's office. Mr. Neely jumped up and told me not to shoot. I told him I was not shooting to scare Levering, and fired again. When I fired the second time I was in the same position as at first, only more erect. The second time I did not point the pistol quite so far to the left as at first. I realized that it was not necessary to direct my shot so far towards the left, because the first one had gone into the Clerk's office. I remember this with the utmost distinctness. I did not attempt or intend to do criminal injury to Levering, and took great pains not to do so. I was just as cool as I am now, so far as I am capable of judging of my own faculties."

Witness then went out to explain circumstance of civil cases preceding, in which he had acted as attorney against Levering, but this testimony was ruled out by the Court, on objection by the prosecution.

Mr. Wicks continued: "At the time I fired the first shot and the second shot I had precisely the same feeling, that I would frighten Levering into letting me alone. This was not the first time that Mr. Levering had approached me on the subject. I felt that his approach was not a legitimate inquiry, but only a prelude to insult and abuse." Witness recounted two previous interviews with Levering, in which the latter had propounded about the same question: "When are you going to bring back those papers?"

Mr. Wicks was subjected to a long cross-examination by Mr. Dupuy, without changing the purport of the testimony. The evidence had a good deal to do with mental phenomena and other abstractions.

At the conclusion of the testimony, about 4 o'clock, Justice Austin stated that he had carefully considered the testimony as it was adduced, and he believed he was as competent to pass upon the matter as he would be after hearing arguments.

The counsel on both sides then graciously waived argument.

The Court stated that there was nothing whatever in the evidence to fix upon Mr. Wicks the intent to kill Levering, or to inflict great bodily harm upon him. He was of the opinion that a public offense had been committed, but not the offense charged in the complaint—assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. He therefore dismissed the complaint, and ordered the defendant discharged from custody.

Law and Order.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: The labor troubles in the East, and the Chinese movement on this coast, have called out many able documents from the leading men all over the country. But the subject is far from being exhausted; much more might be said to the profit of those interested.

How to rid ourselves of the Chinese is a problem of prime importance to the people of this coast. But it would be well for the leaders in the movement known as the boycott, to remember that shallows are always two ways of doing anything—a right way and a wrong way. And I think it would be well for them to stop for a moment, and consider under which head the boycott properly comes. First, let us remember that the boycott is not an American institution, and may, therefore, not harmonize with our institutions. The constitution of the United States guarantees life, liberty and protection to all, irrespective of race or color.

So I don't see how it could be very well argued that the Chinese have not a right to the protection of the government. And I think that the government has a right to protect the Chinese from the boycott. The courts have decided that the boycott is a conspiracy. And the leaders of the boycott in the East are all being prosecuted. Thus we see that is against the law of the country;—in opposition to the laws of the United States, brought from a foreign land and I may add that 90 per cent of the leaders of the movement are foreigners. What has been said of the boycott would apply also to the manner in which strikes are conducted in the East. If the laborers are dissatisfied with the wages which they receive, they have a right to petition for higher wages, and if they are not granted they have a perfect right to strike. But they have no right to hinder those who can and will work for less. The citizens may agree among themselves to withdraw their patronage from the Chinese, but they have no right whatever to dictate to others in the matter. The only way in which we can rid ourselves lawfully of the Chinese is to replace them with white labor. Let a labor bureau be formed, and let those who have good references be allowed to register themselves, and let the people know that all who are connected with the bureau may be relied on, and we shall have no difficulty in solving the Chinese question.

Yours truly, for higher wages and white labor. AN AMERICAN.

Riparian Rights.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: Seeing an account of the decision of the Supreme court of the State with regard to riparian rights, adverse to irrigation, I was led into a train of reflection thereon. With all respect for the decision and for the majesty of law, I would repeat the observation made by some commentator, that law is but common sense refined, and having that, the common class of people may be permitted to judge of right and wrong. Any area of country would certainly be entitled to the amount of rain falling upon it in preference to all others, even though there be a surplus. Water naturally seeks a level or the lowest place. Rivers and their tributaries are the channels or drains by which an outlet is afforded for this surplus that comes from higher places. Now, if this water can be directed to useful purposes, seeking other channels, though artificial, it is not surplus, and needs no drainage, natural or artificial. The right to its use, then, depends upon where it is needed. If it be to convert a desert into a garden, that is surely better than that it should run into the sea. Rivers, etc., may be considered as natural drains for waste or superfluous water, and if there is use for the water, then they are no longer useless, and are not superfluous. The question, then, should be, which of the two systems would be more beneficial to the greatest number? And it seems to me that the diverting or irrigation plan would be conceded to be that one. With due deference for the opinion supporting the decision of the Supreme Court, I submit the foregoing to the consideration of the sovereigns of the land, the people. HOMO.

The Inhumanity of Check-Reining.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: Will you kindly give space in your people's column to the following brief extract from the report of the National Humane Society. The practice deprecated is not within the jurisdiction of the law, and its only redress is a better knowledge of its barbarity: "Overchecking of horses is one of the most common, and certainly one of the most foolish, forms of cruelty to animals. It is done in the name of fashion, and for the sake of appearance.

"The over check rein not only ruins the horse's appearance, but inflicts a most cruel torture, which drivers can best appreciate by trying it themselves. An hour or two of this treatment would show them why it is that a horse is uneasy when over-checked, and why he throws his head up and down and to and fro, and refuses to stand quiet. Some people look at a restless horse and say 'what a spirited animal,' but in most cases it is not spirit, but torture that moves. If a man were hitched up into such a rigging and his neck drawn into such a terrible unnatural position, and he were then whipped to a run over a rough street, drawing or carrying a burden, with the sun right in his eyes, and blinkers so affixed that he could hardly see where he was going, and without being permitted to rest his neck or refresh himself with water for hours, he would then get some idea of the sufferings a poor horse is asked to undergo in the service of his master.

"The over-check is an abomination, and there should be a stringent law against it.

"The side-check is often used too tight, but neither side nor over-check is used as generally as it was two or three years ago. A few work horses are still tortured in this way, but only a few. The street-car horses, the express company horses, the horses drawing wagons for the breweries, sugar, lime, big mercantile and manufacturing horses are nearly all driven without blinders and without checks. It is among the rich that we find torture by check-rein. Just you go to any fashionable church on a Sunday morning you will see scores of horses standing about in agony, while their owners are at worship inside.

"MEDAL."

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Woodland Mail: Attorney General Marshall has reason to "feel as big as a two-story hen-coop." Controller Dunn must feel like a poker player who has filled his hand to the amount of $11 and took great pains not to do so. I was just as cool as I am now, so far as I am capable of judging of my own faculties."

Witness then went out to explain circumstance of civil cases preceding, in which he had acted as attorney against Levering, but this testimony was ruled out by the Court, on objection by the prosecution.

Mr. Wicks continued: "At the time I fired the first shot and the second shot I had precisely the same feeling, that I would frighten Levering into letting me alone. To the Editor of the Times—SIR: The labor troubles in the East, and the Chinese movement on this coast, have called out many able documents from the leading men all over the country. But the subject is far from being exhausted; much more might be said to the profit of those interested.

How to rid ourselves of the Chinese is a problem of prime importance to the people of this coast. But it would be well for the leaders in the movement known as the boycott, to remember that shallows are always two ways of doing anything—a right way and a wrong way. And I think it would be well for them to stop for a moment, and consider under which head the boycott properly comes. First, let us remember that the boycott is not an American institution, and may, therefore, not harmonize with our institutions. The constitution of the United States guarantees life, liberty and protection to all, irrespective of race or color.

So I don't see how it could be very well argued that the Chinese have not a right to the protection of the government. And I think that the government has a right to protect the Chinese from the boycott. The courts have decided that the boycott is a conspiracy. And the leaders of the boycott in the East are all being prosecuted. Thus we see that is against the law of the country;—in opposition to the laws of the United States, brought from a foreign land and I may add that 90 per cent of the leaders of the movement are foreigners. What has been said of the boycott would apply also to the manner in which strikes are conducted in the East. If the laborers are dissatisfied with the wages which they receive, they have a right to petition for higher wages, and if they are not granted they

Real Estate.

THE GREATEST

Real Estate Sale of the Season!

Subdivision of the celebrated Co-operative Nursery Tract. Grand sale of 482 beautiful residence lots, each 50 feet front, including 15 extra large size corner prize lots, on South Main street, near Jefferson, at $250 each, on easy instalments, without interest. With these lots are included ten beautiful and expensive cottages, four mast electric lights, ample and heavy plank sidewalks in front of every lot, 14-year-old seedling orange trees; also bearing grapevines—all of which improvements are free to subscribers. Books for subscription will be open on and after Thursday, April 29, at J. M. BATCHELOR & CO.'S, Real Estate, Auctioneers, 236 North Main street, Baker Block.

The owner of this property respectfully refers to His Honor Mayor Spence, President of First Nation l Bank; President John E. Plater, of Los Angeles County Bank; President Geo. H. Bonebrake, of Los Angeles National Bank.

A very unusual opportunity to obtain a lovely home in the most beautiful southern suburb of Los Angeles.

Four hundred and eighty-two lots for sale on terms within the reach of any one wishing a home of their own at less rates than house rent can be obtained.

Over one-half of these lots contain 14 year-old seedling orange trees—not common oranges, remember. A few lots of this section afford a good family living. One-third of these lots are covered with the three best varieties of bearing grape vines. All but a small portion of the remaindar is in 11-year-old full bearing seedling orange trees.

This estate, sightly and well situated, noted for the care it has always had, with high, level ground, way above any possible overflow, is the gem of the city.

The scenery in every direction is of great extent and beauty. Situated 2½ miles south of the Postoffice, on the chief thoroughfare of Los Angeles, directly in a line with the heavy or more valuable business growth of the city. No other street contains such valuable property. This fact is most important and should be remembered by those looking for future rise of values. But ten minutes' drive north of this site, on the same street, lots of same size sell for $2000 each.

TERMS—Cash; or, $50 cash, $15 in 1 month, $15 in 2 months, $10 in 3 months and every month thereafter until $250 is paid.

Subscriptions will be received at above rates direct by the owner, whose responsibility is of the highest class.

A meeting of all subscribers will be held on or about July 31, 1886, for the purpose of selecting the lots subscribed for. At this meeting a committee of three will be appointed by the subscribers. The name of every subscriber will then be read aloud from his written slips of paper, which will then be placed in a suitable box from which, when all the names are placed therein, will be drawn by the committee, one name at one time. The name, when read aloud, permits its owner to select the best lot from the entire number unchosen.

A deed will then be made out, and the subscriber can take immediate possession. The deed to remain in the owner's hands until the full $250, the price of the lot, shall be paid. To give every subscriber a fair chance, one name is entitled to select not more than one lot containing a dwelling house, nor is one name entitled to select more than one-half the lots that name subscribes for either on New Main or San Pedro streets, except in case of two lots only in one name. These dwellings are to be beautiful in design, ten in number, and strictly first-class in every respect; competent to take a speciality of all the various diseases of the body; brain, throat, lungs, liver, big stomach, blood, etc. Consultation free. All sick are invited to attend. 135 Upper Main st. de18tf Confinements especially will be promptly attended to at all hours. Ladies referral from cities can be promptly cured with only a pair of dances in his hand. A lost reputation: The legal reputation D. M. Delmas staked on the Supreme Court decision in the railway tax cases.

Grass Valley Union: Clarence R. Greathouse is to have an office at last, as the President has appointed him Consul General at Kanagawa, Japan. This will remove Clarence as a disturbing element in California Democratic politics. Now, if "Uncle Cleve" will find similar places for the two Billys, English and Foote, the Democratic party of California may again become a happy family. It will be unnecessary to make any provision for Delmas, as he is reported to have gone into a hole quite recently and pulled the aperture in after him.

Australian Fruits In English Markets.

The Liverpool Post says: We regularly receive supplies of fresh beef and mutton from the antipodes. The latest departure of the Australian colonies is the exportation to the mother country of fresh table fruits, a consignment of which has just reached London. On the boxes being opened, the fruit, consisting of apples, pears, grapes, quinces, oranges and lemons, was found to be in excellent condition and of good quality. The fruit, it appears, was not frozen, but packed in cork dust or sawdust, and placed in a cold chamber fitted with insulators and kept as nearly as possible at a uniform temperature of 40 degrees. Several further consignments are expected during the current season, and it is understood that at the forthcoming Colonial Exhibition Australia will make a brave show of fresh fruits thus imported. Should a trade be established, the result would be beneficial to the public, though the home fruit growers might not relish the competition.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Electro-Magnetism, the New Means of Cure.
Dr. E. Robbins's Electro-Magnetic Institute, corner First and Spring streets, entrance on First street, is now fitted up, at considerable expense, with every thing that is necessary to cure chronic and so-called incurable diseases, by the finest electrical apparatuses in the world, Turkish and Russian baths; also electric sulphur baths. Dr. Robbins has had several years' experience in the Australian colonies, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver, and three years in Los Angeles, and hundreds of leading citizens can testify to the wonderful effects of electricity in curing cases of chronic diseases when all else had failed, and therefore all persons suffering should try this new remedy before abandoning all hope. After every treatment the patients are treated with the Massage treatment, by persons of their own sex. The Doctor diagnoses disease without explanation from the patient, free of charge. His office hours are 8 till 12, 1 to 5.

Startling Phenomena

—OF—

THE FORCE OF MIND

—OR—

POWER OF WILL.

By request of several gentlemen of this city, Dr. Truesdell, the noted Scientist and Metaphysical Healer, submitted to a private test of his phenomenal powers in their presence, at the Grand Opera House Hall, on Monday afternoon, May 17th.

Three "sufferers" from chronic rheumatism were brought (almost instantaneously) under the influence of the operator, and each in turn, forced to cry "enough," whereupon the Doctor brought the full power of Mind (or Will) to bear upon their bodies, and each subject was thrown into violent trembling of the entire body or calmed down, at will. The limbs were shaken or drawn up by a motion of the operator's hand, and the most acute pain induced or sent away without touch.

The "forces" was felt with equal power when the Doctor stood the length of the hall from his subject.

The simple touch of a finger excited the WHOLE NERVOUS SYSTEM.

Proving that the force (whatever it may be) is not electricity, which can only excite the nerves and muscles immediately in contact with the electric poles of a battery. Persons desirous of critical investigation will be referred to witnesses above mentioned, as to the free exhibitions of the same power, at the hall, from 10 to 12, daily.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, Friday, May 21.

The local Grain market continues stagnant, and advices from San Francisco, New York, London and other Grain centers indicate a similar lassitude. The sales during the present month will, if reports are true, aggregate much less than those of any similar period of time for years.

The weekly circular of A. Lusk & Co., of San Francisco, contains the following regarding the Orange market in that city:

"On the 14th and 15th the market came to the center looking fresh and smiling, with every indication of continued improvement. On the morning of the 14th, one carload arrived in fair order, and was gobbled up like buckwheat cakes in a third-class boarding house on a frosty morning. In the afternoon of the 14th four cars arrived, and prices commenced to weaken. Saturday the 15th they held their own, but the heavy arrivals of the 17th and 18th caused them to look groggy. Considering the heavy arrivals of seasonable Fruit and Berries, they are holding remarkably well. At the present writing the demand is very fair. There is an evident inclination on the part of holders to maintain prices, while the jobbers and hawkers are going around watching the piles of Oranges like buzzards on a fence corner waiting for the last kick of an expiring mule. The ever thus! Everybody and everything on the gobble, and the poor producer bears the brunt."

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Government bonds dull and unchanged.

Today was another day of encouragement for the speculative market, and was active. Everything to-night shows substantial gains over last night's closing figures. St. Paul was undoubtedly the leader by which the rest of the market was guided. Buying of this stock seems to be almost entirely for Western account. The late figures are generally either at or close to the best prices reached. The market closed strong at an advance. The volume of whole sales active list is higher to-night, St. Paul is the only stock on the usually active list showing an advance of more than 1 per cent.

The Woman's Exchange.

First—It is intended to benefit deserving and industrious women by affording an opportunity to dispose of their work to persons who are willing to purchase useful articles.

Second—The Exchange can furnish choice articles of food cooked to order, ready made fancy articles, and everything that represents economy and neatness. Here is an opportunity for the generous-hearted to do a great work and yet get the full worth of their money. The commission for selling is rarely enough to pay the small expenses of the Exchange. Call and see the work. 17 S. Main street.

Ladies,

Consult Mrs. Dr. Wells, whose specialty is diseases of women, and treatment entirely new. Prompt relief in female irregularities. Two hours each day devoted to electro, medicated and hot air baths. Consultation free. 341 Spring street.

Away ahead of all competition, as far the zenith is above the nadir, is the great American Dye House of HORATIO MA THEWS & Also street.

A Simple Remedy for Gophers.

Why will any one be so annoyed by gophers or squirrels, when you can kill every one of them by using Browne's Patent Smoker? It only cos s $3, and is good for many years. Call and see it operate at F. E. Browne's, No. 44 S. Spring street, or send for descriptive circular.

Sal-Muscatelle,

A NATURAL

Sick Headache and Dyspepsia Cure

IN AMERICA.

The crystallized salts, as extracted from grapes and fruit, a most wonderful product from nature's laboratory. Have it in your homes and travels—a specific for the fagged, dyspeptic, stomach and bowel complaints; removes biliousness, stimulates the liver to a healthy action, counteracts the effects of impure water and to excessive use of alcoholic beverages and prevents the absorption of malaria, and supplies to the system the want of sound ripe fruit.

WELLS-BELL.

The Famous Criminal Libel Suit Ended.

NINE TO ACQUIT, THREE TO CONVICT.

The Jury Out Six Hours and Nineteen Minutes—The Arguments in the Case.

The Bell libel suit was resumed before Judge Cheney yesterday morning. Two hours' time was granted each side for argument.

District Attorney Holton opened for the prosecution in a thirty minutes' speech, reading and commenting upon the law as to libel and malice. He held that the alleged libelous article was intended to impeach Col. Wells's reputation. In other crimes the question of intent enters more extensively, but in the case of criminal libel the statute largely does away with the need of proving malice. The statement "it is claimed" was no defense. The ultimate fact in the article must be proved to be true. The extreme penalty for criminal libel is $5000 fine or one year's imprisonment.

J. C. DALY

followed for the defense, speaking until noon. After reviewing the history of libel, he turned to the triviality of the present case. He went over the various alleged libels, and said they proved that the defendant had no intent to blacken anyone. The first thing for you to determine is whether this little paragraph is libelous. Col. Wells may have read it with an inflamed mind full of dark images. There is nothing bad visible in this article to anyone but Mr. Wells. He was blinded, by malice and wounded vanity, to its proper construction, and has a motive for construing it maliciously. You know something of what sort of a man Major Bell is. If he had meant that Col. Wells went to some improper place with some improper person, he would have made that meaning too plain to need a diagram. It doesn't require publication to make a man ridiculous. He may by his own actions make himself ridiculous. [Here Mr. Daly read the article "Wined and Dined with the Best.'] As to this article, 'Was it His Wife,' I am reminded of the mountain which labored and brought forth a mouse. There has been a great deal of smoke made here over a very small spark. The prosecution try to put a construction on this paragraph which would make it libelous. They can't deduce libel from it. It was all one with the 'Wined and Dined' article, but got separated from it in the make-up. Here is the article. It simply says that some one claims it was a't Mrs. Wells, as has been previously reported, but some one else. The only construction of which these simple English words are capable is that the paragraph means the editor meant it to have. There was no villainous motive rolled up in it. They have produced no evidence that it is even libel."

Here it struck noon. Mr. Daly had been talking an hour and twenty minutes. Mr. Williams asked more time for speaking. Judge Fitzgerald objected, and the court took it under advisement.

Afternoon Session.

Court reassembled at 2 o'clock. Judge Cheney informed defense that he would give them no more time, as they had specified two hours as sufficient. Mr. Daly wound up his argument in a few words, and began, with but thirty-seven minutes remaining for the fight. He said he had but a few minutes and will try to improve them. I have never before been called upon to make a speech in my own behalf, and hope I never will again. [He read extracts from a book 'Trial by Jury.'] Here is a picture. It is always the same picture, but its appearance may differ according to the point of view from which one sees it. The great power of the State has held up their side of the picture as it wished. For the first hour we were allowed to show our side. Next day, which was yesterday, our picture was snapped out. We claim that we have a right to show it to you, but we were not allowed. I think if it were gone over again we would be allowed. The Court said yesterday it would instruct the jury. Now it says it won't."

The Court: "Beg your pardon, Major Bell, I did n't say so. Do you wish me to charge the jury?"

Major Bell: "I don't care to argue with the Court. I am losing my sanity time. In a criminal action, the defendant is held innocent until he is proved guilty. You can't convict me of all these things are proved beyond a reasonable doubt. I don't want to be convicted. When thirteen years in jail stares a man in the face, it excites his apprehensions. The Court can fine me $5000, or one day in jail for each dollar until it is paid. That is thirteen years I come before you for protection from such a possibility. We were not permitted to prove any of the other articles except 'The Delectable.' Every article is true, absolutely and I defy the prosecution on it. Did this article injure him? Did it turn him out of church? Did it keep Mr. Bresee from coming here and testifying that he is a member in good standing? There can't be a criminal act without a criminal mind. We were prohibited from telling any of the circumstances. Suppose a matter comes out in a big lawsuit concerning some man, and you tell it to some one in good faith. But it turns out you were mistaken. You go to the man concerned with an explanation of why you said what you did. He will not listen, but kills you. Do you think I was treated fairly in being denied a hearing? I maintain that that article is perfectly true. It was written to remove an imputation which had been cast upon a very worthy lady. I will maintain that as long as I live, and my children will maintain it after me, for they belong to that breed. Why did the prosecution want to keep all the facts from the jury? If the State were just and generous, they would have said, 'certainly, take all the evidence, and weigh it for what it is worth.'"

Major Bell's speech had lasted fifteen minutes.

created a sensation at once. He said: "The defendant is a soldier; he is an honorable man. The men who are persecuting him are not worthy to be black-balled from his shoes." [Applause over the courtroom, which had to be suppressed. Judge Fitzgerald arose for an explanation, and was appeased by the statement that Mr. Williams did not refer to the counsel.] I repeat that the men engaged in persecuting this old soldier and patriot are not worthy to lick the dirt from his shoes. He has been persecuted and followed by a pack of hounds for over $700 fine and five days' imprisonment already piled up against him.

Judge Court: "Mr. Williams, don't you say that, nor anything like it." [Mr. Williams explained that he was casting no reflection on the Court, and proceeded]: "We ask for the protection of this jury. Horace Bell has been persecuted by men of power and influence, because he had the manhood to stand up before the community, when none other dared, in defense of the virtue of a poor farmer's daughter, against an infamous scoundrel whose name is the synonym for lechery. That is why Horace Bell is here to-day. The man who is prosecuting this case is not a man of the highest possibilities. He helped Baldwin to drag down and ruin that girl whom his wife had met as a sister—for money. Bell had a right to treat him as a hypocrite and a carpet-bagger. Is it possible for a man to serve as attorney for that infamous man, who had introduced his wife to the girl he denounces as a prostitute from childhood? Then as to his trying to get those scurrilous attacks on Judge Higes printed. Wasn't Bell right from what he knew of the case —wasn't it his duty to comment? Many newspapers are time-serving, but Major Bell has the courage of his convictions. He published this article in good faith and a manly spirit. Mr. Wells says he is a member of the church in good standing. I respect the church, but I have a loathing contempt for a man who wears the cloak of religion to which he is not entitled. If Wells were a man of the fine sensibilities he pretends, when Baldwin tried to prove that girl a prostitute from childhood, he would have withdrawn from that case forever. He would now be prosecuting Baldwin instead of Bell. Major Bell says every one of these articles is true. They object to the proof, but we are ready to prove every one.

Why don't they 'arrest him for the other articles? Because they thought it impossible for him to prove this one, so they'd cash him on it. They didn't dare take a case in which he had a personal knowledge."

Mr. Williams's speech lasted twenty minutes. He was followed by Judge Fitzgerald, who consumed an even hour in a strong and earnest speech. He said, in brief:

"We do not wish to convict, except by legal means. There are three simple propositions in this case: First, is the article libelous? Second, is the article libelous per se? Third, is it explained by an innuendo, and is it proved that the innuendo is laid? The law of California makes libel a crime against the State, to keep people from taking the matter into their own hands. If this article is libelous upon its face, and no good motive is shown, the law supposes it to be malicious. Hearsay evidence is no evidence here, nor are the speeches of counsel. [Here he read the alleged libel.] Take the very name of the Porcupine. Por-cu-pine! The very fact that this article or any other article appears in a paper with such a name is fit for the consideration of this jury. It doesn't take a lawyer to determine the character of that article. The counsel who preceded me tries to make out that this is Wells vs. Bell. Col. Wells has nothing to do with this case, save as a witness. It is the People against Bell. All these articles have been read. We introduced them to show the state of defendant's mind toward Col. Wells. [Here he gave a sarcastic turn to Major Bell's statement that he had had friendly feelings toward Col. Wells. He gets up here and asks you to turn him loose. You have nothing to do with the length of his residence in the State, nor with his family. You have no right to acquit him for that, though you have the power to do it. There is no defense to this action. [Here followed an appeal for the feelings of Mrs. Wells]. If this trial is made a farce, I venture it will be the last time a jury will ever have a chance to make a farce here. *

Miss Perkins's evidence fully corroborates that of Col. Wells, except in the unimportant point as to whether they were introduced. There is nothing to show that this article is true. What good could be accomplished by it? The truth of the whole matter is personal hostility. * * * All the powers in California combined couldn't bring me into court as prosecuting witness in such a suit."

The Court then proceeded to read to the jury—Major Bell's objection being overruled and exception noted—Sections 248, 250, 251, 252, 253, and 7, Subdivision 4, Penal Code. He delivered no other charge.

THE JURY

went out at 3:41, in charge of Deputy Sheriff M. G. Aguirre. There was a large and interested crowd of waiters. At 10 o'clock Judge Cheney called in the jury and asked Foreman Guthrie if they had agreed upon any verdict. Mr. Guthrie replied they had not, and he did not believe it possible for them to. The Judge canvassed the jury thoroughly, and found all the members of the same opinion. Mr. Guthrie stated that they stood nine to three. The Court ordered: "It appearing to the Court that the jurors have been out a fully reasonable time, and that there is no reasonable probability of their agreeing, the jury is discharged."

Major Bell received hearty congratulations, and remarked, "Good for the American press." As the jury went out of the door, the TIMES reporter asked Foreman Guthrie, "How was that 9 to 3?" "There were 9 for acquittal and 3 for conviction," answered Mr. Guthrie.

A Rare Chance to the Ladies of Los Angeles.

A small consignment of Imported French Hats and Bonnets will be on exhibition at rooms 35 and 33 Rose block, No. 267½ N. Main street. Those goods are of latest styles and exquisite finish. On account of the death of one of the owners, this consignment must be closed within ten days, regardless of cost. Ladies should not fail to avail themselves of this opportunity to secure the first requisite of a perfect toilet, a handsome hat or bonnet.

Rooms open from 9 to 12 a. m., and 1 to 4 and 7 to 8 o'clock p. m. A lady will be in attendance to wait on customers. Remember the place—rooms 35 and 33 Rose block. Opening day Friday, May 21st.

Senator Leavitt.

A brilliant assemblage of Los Angelefios gathered at 39 S. Spring street, last night, to hear a discourse by Senator Ed. Leavitt. He has made himself very popular during his stay in town, and will hold forth every night at the above address until further notice. He is carrying a large and elegant stock of watches and jewelry, and selling them very rapidly to an appreciative public. His place is a good one in which to pass an interesting evening.

Where to Get Your Ice Cream.

Having reopened our Ice Cream Parlors, we beg leave to call attention to our friends and patrons that we are prepared to furnish the best ice cream in Los Angeles at the lowest margins. Being conveniently located at 48 North Spring street, we are able to supply, at the shortest notice, any of the following flavors: Vanilla, chocolate, pistache, macerome, coffee, strawberry, peach, fruity, Neapolitan, harlicon and lemon, orange, lemon, raspberry, ices, etc., etc.

JOHN R. MEISER, Proprietor.

From the Foothills to the Beach.

The Los Angeles and San Gabriel Valley Railroad announces a line of Summer excursions to Santa Monica and Long Beach, which will be the means of a great deal of comfort to the people of Pasadena and the foothills beyond.

People can leave Lamanda Park at 7:15 a. m., reach Long Beach at 10:50 or Santa Monica at 10:30, and be back at Lamanda Park at 6:10 on Sundays or 6:25 on week days. The round trip from Lamanda Park is $1.75, and from Pasadena $1.50.

Fine Dairy Cows.

Every family should have a nice cow, they are really half the support of a family. John C. Bell, the auctioneer, will sell fine dairy cows, family horses and Surry buggies, trotting wagons, double and single harness—hand stitched—this day at 10 o'clock. Read the advertisement in another column. John C. Bell.

A Problem in Arithmetic.

How many per cent. does your investment realize if you buy a Wiesendanger lot for $150, by paying $30 cash, $10 a month, no interest, if the street cars run through Vernon avenue in three months time, and you then sell out your lot for $400 cash? Answer.—Your cash payments amount to $60, your profit is $250, your interest is at the rate of 416 per cent. in 3 months, or 1600 per cent. in a year.

Who Says No?

The Irvington Colony excursion is this morning. Train leaves at 9 from new depot, San Fernando street. Good investment will unquestionably be offered; 1.000 acres will be sold without reserve. The coming Pasadena and Riverside. Fine land, lots of water. A good dinner will be served at the fine new hotel.

You Can Build To-Day

On a Wiesendanger lot, by paying down only $30 cash and $10 a month until the price of $150 is paid off. No interest to eat you up. Go and see Fan Palm avenue.

Auction Sale.

The auction sale of John C. Bell's yesterday was very successful, being Cook's subdivision on Boyle Heights, on the ground, Stevenson avenue. Prices ranged from $75.00 to $315 00, on the extension of the Second Street cable road.

Art Needle Work.

Do not forget to attend the opening of art needle work to-day, at 101 S. Hill street, from two till six o'clock.

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS

Which Frightened Some and Endangered Others.

Quite an excitement occurred about 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon in the vicinity of the St. Elmo Hotel, incident to a sudden and mysterious explosion. William Garms and his dog were pursuing their way south, when suddenly the canine dropped a package that he had been carrying in his mouth, and a roar like that of a mammoth torpedo resulted. One or two persons occupying chairs in front of the hotel came near turning somersaults, while a hack team executed some lively steps northward, minus the driver, who was on the sidewalk. The dog, apparently unconcerned, trotted forward, while his master suddenly stooped and picked up the package, thrusting it under his coat, and leaving a handful of torn and scorched paper where it had fallen. Officer Mannon ran across the street, and was told by the Assistant City Attorney to follow the man with the dog. Officer Jackson, however, met him at Temple street, Garmes being pale with fright, and escorted him to police headquarters, where a huge revolver was found upon him, with one chamber empty. In the afternoon Mayor Sponce fined him ten dollars and lectured him upon his criminal carelessness, in endangering the lives of people by permitting a dog to carry so dangerous a weapon.

A crowd of people gathered at the hotel and discussed the mysterious explosion, some supposing that a dynamite fiend had arrived, while others supposed the man was training his dog, as it was a bird dog. The howitzer was retained for the time being by Captain Ketler.

NORMAL ADELPHIANS.

A Successful Entertainment Last Evening.

This society, which is composed entirely of young men belonging to the Normal school, held its closing entertainment for the term last night. Messrs. Campbell, Holliday, Lockhart and Young sang a quartiette and were encored, but would not respond. An address was delivered by the President, followed by a reading by Mr. Jepson, a declamation by Mr. Neper and an oration by Mr. Blake. There was then a debate on the question "Resolved, That all good citizens should help the boycott against the Chinese." Affirmative—Messrs. Pendleton and Guidecoeur; negative—Messrs. Foster & Blake. The question was decided in the affirmative, after which a recess was taken.

The company adjourned to the central hall, where a supper was served. Toasts were responded to by Prof. Ira More and Misses Dunn and Monks, of the faculty, Miss Hawks and Messrs. Foster and Blake, of the students.

After a song by Mr. Campbell, the society adjourned.

This meeting will long be remembered as one of the most successful the society has ever held.

THEY WILL HELP

Secure a Government Building for Los Angeles.

Gen. Wm. R. Burke of this city has been at pains to write to his friends in the United States Senate from Arkansas, relative to the need of Government buildings in Los Angeles, and setting forth the fact that San Francisco is not California, as it is apt to be considered. Senator R. Berry writes in response:

"If I can do anything to aid your member in securing an appropriation for public buildings, I will do so with pleasure. I will speak for your Democratic Senator about it and learn the situation. It would give me great pleasure to visit Los Angeles this summer, but I fear I cannot."

Senator James K. Jones writes: "Your letter is the first, calling my attention to the necessity for a new postoffice building at Los Angeles, and requesting my assistance in securing an appropriation for the same, has been received. I shall be pleased to co-operate with Col. Markham in the matter, and to render such assistance as the necessity of the case seems to require. The other Arkansas members, I have no doubt, will do the same."

INVESTMENTS

—IN—

Growing City Property

Are probably more remunerative in the long run than any other class of securities. Los Angeles is so situated that its business growth, that which makes property most valuable, inclines in but one direction, that is south. Hills on the west, river on the east, prevent the side development that otherwise might take place. If, as is generally predicted, the city contains 100,000 population five years hence, the most of this accession for business particularly must extend out Main st. Property at that time situated on the present boundary line in that direction will probably bear some such relation to the city that Sixth and Main do now.

These facts in mind, we refer to the extraordinary offers of the managers of the Co-operative Nursery Tract, now for sale, subdivided into 402 residence lots, none less than 90x119 feet each. This tract, situated 2½ miles south of Postoffice and two and a half miles west of river, is beautiful and perfect in every sense. Those acquainted speak of it in the highest terms. Handsome residences surround it in all directions.

With these lots are included ten beautiful dwellings. Heavy plank sidewalks in front of every lot; four must electric lights; fifteen extra large corner lots; fourteen-year-old seedling orange trees and bearing vines, all of which improvements are included in the price, $250 for each lot, payable in easy installments, as follows: $50 cash at time of subscription, $25 in one month, $15 in two months and $10 in three months and each month thereafter until $250 is paid. A few lots in the orange section will afford a family living. About July 31st a drawing will take place to see which of the subscribers get the dwellings and choice lots. These dwellings are to be elegant and first-class in every respect. Plans to be seen at office of J. M. Batchelor & Co., real estate, auctioneers, 236 N. Main street, Baker Block, where subscriptions are being rapidly received. The title of the property is perfect. A city bank will certify to this fact. For further particulars and maps call at above office. Also are large advertisement in this paper, page 2, where a more detailed description may be found. The owner of this tract, whose responsibility is of the highest class, respectfully refers to his Honor, Mayor Spence, President of the First National Bank; President John E. Plater, of Los Angeles County Bank; President Geo. H. Bonebrake, of Los Angeles National Bank. A team leaves 236 N. Main st., Baker Block, daily, fare 50c, to show visitors the grounds. my8 1m
